

ASSUMPTIONS

Thinking that a manager can be moved to another branch for managing which is different than his/her home branch, will leave his/her home branch unmanaged. Therefore a new manager can be assigned to the branch which has no manager. This will cause that two managers will have the same home branch and preceding branch will not be home branched by any manager.